I learnt and mastered web development at Aptech computer education. I became proficient in web development and got certified by Aptech computer education. I also worked for Aptech computer education as a web developer for three months.

Freelancer — Software Development

June 2021 - Present

I also work as a freelancer, consistently bringing my clients' ideas to life and delivering projects on time.

EDUCATION

Aptech Computer Education, Maryland — CPISM, DISM, ADSE

March 2020 - April 2022

I learnt and studied Software development at Aptech Computer Education and I got certified. I got certified for mastering web development which took six months....CPISM (Certification of proficiency in information system management).

I extended my course for another six months to master the principles of software development and I also got certified....DISM (Diploma in systems management).

After learning the principles of software development, I decided to learn and master mobile development which took one year, I got certified...ADSE (Advance diploma in Software Engineering). All the courses I took at Aptech lasted two years, and they were absolutely worth it.
